1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hosotani.

Hosotani discloses a fully hydraulic steering system with a steering member 10, a steering unit 14 that can be activated by the steering member, said steering unit comprising a supply connection arrangement with a pressure connection 21 and a tank connection 22, and a working connection arrangement with two working connections, and a steering motor 17, which is connected with the working connection arrangement, wherein an auxiliary force operated steering valve 5B is arranged in parallel to the steering unit between the supply connection arrangement and the working connection arrangement, wherein the steering member acts upon a sensor 29, whose outlet is connected to a steering valve control device 286, wherein the sensor produces a proportional steering signal, wherein a share of the fluid supplied to the steering motor, originating from the steering valve, can be changed, wherein the steering valve is put together with the steering unit, wherein the steering valve is flanged onto the steering unit, wherein the steering valve is built into the steering unit, wherein at least parts of a control electronics are arranged on the outside of the steering unit, and a steering motor sensor 30 located on the steering motor.
